

October 19, 2016

Dear Sir/Madam,

I would like to introduce myself, Ruvinda Gunawardena, president and co-founder of Revive to Survive (RtoS), a 501(c)(3) tax-exempt organization with a mission to raise awareness of cancer patients, help their families, and provide lifesaving medications. Radhini Abeysekera, co-founder of RtoS, and I are currently pursuing careers in medicine in the USA.

Since the inception of RtoS four years ago, we have raised funds which were utilized for projects aimed to help children with cancer in the island nation of Sri Lanka. The majority of these funds were raised from donors in the USA. This year we are focusing on giving back to communities in the greater Houston area. While there are world class hospitals providing cancer care in Houston, there are many children unable to receive this care due to financial difficulties. RtoS has decided to host a fundraiser this year to provide essential medications and provide support for deserving patients in the greater Houston area. RtoS has partnered with Childhood Cancer Connection Inc. (www.rccamp.org), which is affiliated with UTMB to distribute these funds. This is our way of saying thank you to the community that has supported our cause wholeheartedly for the last several years.

In addition, we plan to continue our ongoing projects to help children with cancer in Sri Lanka, where the government-funded healthcare system is inadequate at times in providing basic medications and needs to be complimented by donor funds. The National Cancer Institute (NCI) in Maharagama, Sri Lanka is the only facility in the island that provides cancer care to a population of twenty million. We have successfully provided lifesaving medications to patients at NCI. During the last few years, we held two highly successful fund raising events that raised over $60,000. These funds have helped our cause immensely but the need still remains. In addition, due to our efforts to highlight the lack of medication at NCI, we have influenced the Sri Lankan government to increase the formulary of the NCI to include more lifesaving medications.

I would like to extend an invitation to your organization to participate in this event with a sponsorship to help us reach our fundraising goals. Radhini and I, as well as the entire RtoS organization, would be delighted and honored if you would accept our invitation. If you need more information about this event and the organization, please visit our website at www.ReviveToSurvive.org. I would also appreciate if I could schedule some time with you at your convenience to discuss our plans. I look forward to hearing from you and seeing you at our event in October!

Yours sincerely,

Ruvinda Gunawardena

Revive to Survive is a tax exempt organization under 501(c)(3) Internal Revenue Code and is recognized as a public charity.

EVENT

Revive to Survive (RtoS), a U.S. based charitable organization, has raised funds to provide pediatric cancer care to patients in Sri Lanka. RtoS provides a crucial service by providing lifesaving medications to these patients who are unable to pay for their medications due to the high costs.

Majority of these funds were raised from donors in the U.S., and we thank them from the bottom of our hearts. As our donors in greater Houston and surrounding areas have always come forward to help our cause, we realized it was time to give back to our community by helping needy patients in the greater Houston/Galveston area. As we are blessed to be in the vicinity of M.D. Anderson, a world-class cancer care center, we have also realized that there are many people who are unable to get treatment here due to financial difficulties. With this in mind, RtoS decided to have a special fundraiser this year to raise funds to provide essential medicines and patient care to deserving patients who need financial help to continue their battle against cancer. This is our way of saying thank you to the community who has supported our cause wholeheartedly for the last several years.

All of the funds raised from this event will be channeled to help people in Houston and surrounding areas.

RtoS invites your organization to become a sponsor and support this worthy cause. Sponsorship levels are listed in the following pages.
